

THREE

Methods For The Selection
Of DelegatesResorted To In Republican
County ConventionRivalling The Stunt Of The Lightning Change ArtistWarren G. Harding Gets Endorsement For GovernorFrank V. Owen The Real Thing In The Convention

You have seen a "lightning change artist" in the vaudeville theatres—the chap who leaves the stage after singing a song and re-appears in a jiffy in a change of costume, and repeats the same thing several times.

Well, the same sort of a "stunt" was pulled off in the Republican county convention at the court house Saturday afternoon, when under the direction of Hon. Frank V. Owen the convention in remarkably short order adopted three different methods for selecting the three sets of delegates the convention was assembled to choose.

Three separate motions were made by Mr. Owen, each rapidly following on the other, and each motion was adopted by the convention without a whisper. Under the three plans adopted consistency was thrown to the winds. If the plan to select the delegates to the state convention was the correct one, then it was as equally right to follow the same plan in the selection of the delegates to the senatorial and the circuit judicial conventions.

Under the plans adopted the state delegates were chosen in open convention; the senatorial delegates were selected through a committee, and the selection of the circuit judicial delegates was left to one man.

In the speech of Chairman Waite the way was paved for an endorsement of the candidacy of Harding for governor, the chairman's reference to Harding being well received.

The resolutions glorified the Republican party, praised President Taft and wound up with a formal endorsement of Warren G. Harding for the nomination for governor.

Mr. Owen was prolific in motions throughout the proceedings.

Convention Organizes
The convention was called to order by Judson Vincent, chairman of the central committee, who named as temporary officers Judge J. B. Waite as chairman and P. L. Wilkins as secretary.

Following a speech by Judge Waite, which was well received by the convention, Mr. Owen moved that the temporary organization be made permanent, which was accordingly done.

Owen Again Moves

Mr. Owen sprung a surprise on those who had not been let in on the program of the bosses by moving that the delegates to the state convention be selected in open convention without any names being presented and each delegate voting for whom he pleased in making up a list of nine delegates to the state convention. The motion was adopted, and the delegates were directed by the chairman to prepare their ballots.

Owen Moves Again

Mr. Owen again secured the attention of the chairman and made the remarkable motion that the selection of the delegates to the circuit judicial convention be left to Mr. W. A. Hosack, the judicial committeeman from Knox county. The convention acquiesced without a whisper.

Once More Mr. Owen

Mr. Owen offered another motion. This time it was in reference to the selection of delegates to the senatorial convention, and the plan he proposed for this job was that a committee of three be appointed to perform the duty. Again the convention said all right. As such committee, Chairman Waite designated Mr. Owen, Torrence Mitchell and Mesha Simpson.

The convention was now ready to receive the ballots for delegates to the state convention and Chas. E. Ayers and T. J. Bradfield were appointed tellers.

The names of the delegates were called and their ballots were deposited with the tellers. The process of receiving the ballots and counting them was a long and very tedious one, consuming about an hour and a half.

While this was going on a committee on resolutions, consisting of Messrs. Chas. C. Iams, B. F. Moore and Milton Martin, was appointed and later on presented its report, which was adopted. It was as follows:

The Resolutions
The Republicans of Knox county, in delegate convention assembled, rejoicing in the splendid achievements of the Republican party, and with full confidence in its future usefulness and success, do hereby reaffirm our faith in the cardinal principles of that party, and express our confidence in our president, Hon. Wm. H. Taft, who in good faith, and in the face of great obstacles, is doing his best to carry out the platform pledges of the party.

Resolved, That we pledge to our congressional and county candidates, nominated by popular vote, our enthusiastic and hearty support in the campaign and at the polls, believing that each and all of them are worthy of that support, and worthy of the support of all the voters of the district and county.

Believing that time and circumstances have demonstrated that the bombastic reform cry which enabled the Democrats to carry Ohio in two gubernatorial contests was a delusion and a snare, put forth for political effect, and that instead of reform we have had merely an exhibition of side-stepping and political jobbery, we call upon all Republicans to profit by the experience gained by the political events of the past few years in Ohio, and to unite their forces to the end that a Republican governor of high character may again be placed in control of the business and finances of the great state of Ohio.

Resolved, That while entertaining the highest respect for the abilities and integrity of the various gentlemen suggested as being worthy of being nominated for governor by the Republicans of Ohio, we heartily endorse the candidacy of the Hon. Warren G. Harding of Marion for that office.

State Delegates
For state delegates 76 ballots were cast out of a possible 114. Nine delegates were to be chosen. The voting was very promiscuous, there being fully 75 persons voted for, the most of them receiving a single vote.

After the announcement was made of the choice of delegates, Mr. Owen again came to the front with another motion, this time it being that the second nine highest be the alternates, and this motion carried. The names of the delegates and alternates and the vote each received follows:

Delegates—Judson Vincent 52, Park B. Blair 51, Harry K. Doolittle 52, Harvey P. Hammond 45, Frank V. Owen 49, S. G. Dowds 40, Chas. C. Iams 39, C. H. Bishop 35, C. A. Mitchell 27.

Alternates—J. B. Waite 26, I. H. Frizzell 26, H. H. Greer 20, Park B. Worley 20, C. G. Weaver 25, Howard Beal 17, Torrence Mitchell 10, Jas. R. McElroy 9, H. M. Patterson 9.

Senatorial Delegates

The committee on senatorial delegates, by Mr. Owen reported the following names and its recommendation was adopted: J. L. Leonard, P. B. Worley, L. A. Stream, S. H. Peterson, Walter Johnson, John Brown, Howard Gates, W. M. Koons, W. O. Bowers, Harry Patterson.

The convention then adjourned.

Circuit Judicial Delegates

Mr. W. A. Hosack, who was empowered by the Republican convention to select the delegates to the circuit judicial convention, has named the following:

Delegates—H. H. Greer, J. B. Waite, F. V. Owen, J. B. Graham.

Alternates—W. H. Thompson, L. C. Stillwell, P. L. Wilkins, C. V. Trott.

FIRE

Destroyed A Portion Of The
Glaze HomeOn North Chester Street
Monday Night

The home of Mrs. Jane Glaze on North Chester street was partially destroyed by fire on Monday night.

At about 9:15 o'clock, a neighbor boy saw an unusually bright light at the rear of the Glaze home and on investigation, he discovered that the house was on fire on the inside.

Instead of going to a telephone nearby, the boy ran the entire distance to the Alberts livery barn on North Mechanic street before sending in the alarm to the fire department. The department made a hurried run to the scene of the fire but by this time, the flames had made good headway and the entire back portion of the house was burning.

By quick work the flames were checked and the greater portion of the house was saved although a great deal of furniture was damaged and destroyed by the fire and water. The cause of the conflagration is not known but it is supposed that it was caused by a stove which was burning in the kitchen.

DUMP

In East Part Of Town Is Objected To

A petition has been circulated and numerously signed by residents of the east part of the city requesting the city council to rescind its action establishing the city dump near the railroad shops, the claim being that it is a menace to the health of the people of that portion of the city. The petition will be presented at the next meeting of council.

There is also talk of invoking the courts to restrain the establishment of the dump at the point named.

OBERLIN BUSINESS COLLEGE ITEMS

Supt. of Schools at Urbana, O., writes the Oberlin Business College May 20th, for a teacher of commercial branches, salary $800. Supt. of Schools at Minerva, O., writes May 19th for a teacher, salary $75 to $90 per month. A. A. Love of Fargo, N. Dak., writes May 24th, that he has three or four calls for commercial teachers, paying from $1000 to $1200. E. E. Gaylord of Beverly, Mass., also has several openings for teachers. The Oberlin Business College has probably sent out more teachers of commercial branches than any similar school in the country. A number of calls have also been received for office work the past week from firms at Cleveland, Lorain, New London and Wellington. The reputation of this school has created a great demand for its graduates in both teaching and office positions.

JACK GOODMAN VS.

New York, May 31—The feature of the Fairmont Athletic Club show tonight will be the bout between Jack Goodman, the New York lightweight, and Jem Driscoll, the lightweight champion of England. The two fighters are regarded as evenly matched and the contest promises to be one of the fastest of the season.

Delivered Address

Appropriate in every detail were the Memorial services in Mt. Vernon on Monday. After the graves of the deceased soldiers had been decorated at the cemetery the procession moved to High school auditorium where a splendid program was carried out.

The address of the afternoon was delivered by the Hon. Carmi A.

CARMI A. THOMPSON,
Who Delivered The Memorial Day Address In This City

Thompson, secretary of state. The address was eloquently delivered and a fine tribute was paid to the old soldiers.

The sermon to the members of the post, the W. R. C. and the Sons of Veterans was delivered Sunday morning by the Rev. F. E. Brininstool at the First Baptist Church.

PAINFUL

Injury Sustained By Mrs.
Magers In Newark

Mrs. Estella Magers of Columbus, formerly of Mt. Vernon, met with a most painful accident while alighting from a train in Newark on Sunday. The heel of her shoe caught in some manner on the step of the coach throwing her violently between the platform and the train. Her foot was twisted and held so firmly beneath her that she was unable to move from her painful position. The prompt action of Mr. Magers and the brakeman, who assisted her, prevented a more serious accident. The injured lady was placed in a hack and taken to the home of her uncle where she was attended by a physician.

BERNICE ALLEN.

Chorus Girl With Wonderful Hair.

MISS BERNICE ALLEN.

The illustration shows the picture of Bernice Allen, the "littlest girl" in the chorus of "The Skylark," a musical production which is likely to amuse Gothamites all summer.

This small lady is only four feet eleven inches high, but the most wonderful thing about Miss Allen is her hair, which measures several inches longer than her petite self.

When asked what hair tonics, lotions and revitalizers, preparations most women have recourse to, she used Bernice Allen airily remarked, "Why, like Topsy, it jess' growed."

The following are Miss Allen's rules for care of the hair:

First.—Brush your hair every night and morning with a long bristle brush with ample space between.

Second.—Wash your hair not oftener than once every four weeks, using the best soap. Dry the hair thoroughly in the old fashioned way, avoiding electric fans and heated air, both of which tend to dry up the oil ducts at the roots.

Third.—Give your hair plenty of sunshine.

Fourth.—Avoid doing your hair up tightly and never use sharply pointed hairpins.

Fifth.—When retiring arrange your hair in two loose braids.

Sixth.—Massage the scalp with the finger tips very gently for ten minutes before doing the hair up for the night.

How Noah Used His Time.

The scene was a Scotch schoolroom. A class was being examined in Scripture knowledge by his majesty's inspector.

"Can any boy or girl tell me how Noah would be likely to use his time while in the ark?" he asked.

There was silence for some time, but at length one boy timidly showed his hand, and on being asked what he thought replied:

"Please, sir, he wad fish."

"Well, yes, he might," admitted the inspector.

Presently another little fellow was seen to wave his hand excitedly, and on being asked to speak said:

"Please, he couldna fish verra lang."

"What makes you think so, my little man?" asked the inspector.

"Because there were only two worms in the ark," was the reply.
